Houston, Texas, February 26, 2013 – Hartline Dacus Barger Dreyer LLP is pleased to announce the election of Jim Corbett and Marshall Rosenberg as partners in the firm.

“Jim and Marshall have both played key roles in the success of our Houston office since joining the firm in 2011,” says Jeff Patterson, Managing Partner. “We are lucky to have these two talented and dedicated attorneys join the firm’s partnership. They are well-liked and respected by the partners, and are in sync with the firm’s philosophy of customized service for each client. Jim and Marshall have provided some creative legal solutions for clients. We are glad to have them as part of the HDBD team, and we know the firm’s clients will continue to benefit from their hard work and dedication to excellence.”

Jim Corbett joined the firm in 2011 after nearly twenty years at the former Barker Lyman PC law firm in Houston. Jim now practices in the firm’s Houston office, where he focuses on insurance litigation, premises liability, professional liability, and other civil litigation. Mr. Corbett recently won a $1.47 million verdict following a jury trial involving a complex business dispute.

Marshall Rosenberg has almost twenty years of experience practicing law and is also based in the firm’s Houston office. He has a state-wide practice and serves as regional counsel for multiple publicly-traded corporations. Mr. Rosenberg focuses on construction defect disputes, commercial real estate litigation, and professional liability actions involving architects, engineers, surveyors, and real estate professionals. He also defends tort actions filed against large self-insured retailers and restaurants. Marshall was recently elected to serve on the Board of Directors of the Foundation Performance Association. He was recognized as a Texas Super Lawyer by Thompson Reuters in 2012.
